The Law of Attraction

Certainly by now you have heard of the Law of Attraction even if you aren't that interested in new age ideas. The theory behind the whole idea is people can have the desire they wish for as long as they think very long and hard about it. All up to the point where they can feel it and see it although it is not there yet. It must be said though even if you develop into what you like, you take the bad with the good.

Whether you like it or whether you don't, the Law of Attraction will work. It has always been that way and it will always be the way it is until there is no more wishing, praying, feelings or beliefs, than the idea will survive. Everything you do leaves a spot in space and the same goes with our feelings and our wishes. The Law of Attraction does exist just like the sun rises in the east and sets in the west. Some people consider thing that cannot be proved or have an explanation behind it is considered faith or miracles or even something that was meant to happen. This Law of Attraction studies behind the "it was meant to happen belief."

This Law of Attraction will bound to teach you that should you think of something that you want positively, it will occur. Yet, if you think negatively, then bad things are bound to happen. Although bad things can happen that aren't bound to the law though most of the time it is. Case in point... you are scared that you be robbed when you are walking. This thought is every day. Eventually one day this will be the actual case.

But there are cases where the regulation cannot apply. For example, a baby/toddler who has been abused cannot begin to understand what is happening to them and do not have the capability to say, I wish this would happen to me.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

Think for a moment about your setting as a comic strip that is created every time you flip the pages in the book. This means you, your own being and self, is responsible for the environment that has been created around you. You are the one holding the strings while the people and the events surrounding you are your puppets. Is this the way you anticipated your life? Just change the way it turns out, if it is not the way you want things to be.

Every being has the ability to change what they do not like about their surroundings. No one can create it for you, so you need to do it for yourself if you do not like it. Course there those that wanted something to occur to you despite your not wanting it to. It does not mean you did anything wrong or could not change it to your advantage, it was just not to be the way you wanted it.

So when it's time to get out of your boring lifestyle since you no longer care for it, only pure positive thinking is the way to go. By changing your lifestyle and your way of thinking can you truly be living your reverie? Do not forget your brain; it is a great tool to use with our abilities.

How to Experience the Law of Attraction

The Law of Attraction - it's a recent concept that the scientific community is finally acknowledging that exists. Yet, most of society does not see it that way since it is fairly new. So how do we get one see that the Law of Attraction is real? How can we convince one person to see that what you want and what you get are two separate things?

The Power of Wishing & the Law of Attraction

The first thing to do is to imagine something you terribly want. Something you know could not ever happen. Imagine yourself with what you want, touching it and feeling it. Then should everything go well and the way you want, then your dreams should come true.

Despite the power of wishing, you need to be realistic. Case in point with wanting dessert after supper, just because you wish you could have dessert after your supper, does not always make it so.

Society nowadays is a lot more cautious especially with fraud cases becoming more and more frequent and people being more aware of them. No wonder it is getting harder and harder to prove that the Law of Attraction is what the person experienced.

Law of Attraction tests

How can we test the Law of Attraction so it is easy to understand? Let us try this experiment. It is simple and require things easily found in a household. Take a small bit of carpet and a glass of grape juice. Can you see where this is heading? The idea is to fill a glass full of grape juice...indeed to the very tip and walk across the "white" carpet without spilling a single drop.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

If you do not happen to have carpeting, then it would be irrelevant to try the experiment. There is another people can try. Even if you have never played golf, try playing it for this idea. Find a hole that already has water in it. The idea is to hit the ball over the danger. Imagine the ball going over the hole as you hit the ball with the golf club. What was the end result? Did your ball go into the water?

If you decided to do the two experiments and it did not go the way you wanted, then you were probably asking for it. You, more than likely, thought in the back of your mind about not spilling the glass of grape juice or doing a good golf shot. These were only two things in the mass of other signals we do not think of because they happen often. Imagine all the things we miss just because of this oversight?

Remember, the Law of Attraction is giving us what we asked for. In both of these "examples", they fell into the negative side instead of the positive one because a bad result came out in each one.

If one person is convinced about the Law of Attraction being real, then that is one less person to convince and one more to convince others. If you understand the Law of Attraction, then you might be on your way to create a happier lifestyle. If not though, then it means it will only be faith, nothing more. Yet, most scientists understand it is the law that something does happen.

The Law of Attraction and Relationships

It has been believed many times that the Laws of Attraction can patent itself when it comes to the matters of wealth, happiness and health. Having a meaningful relationship is part of the pleasure that is felt. The relationships can be of love, family or even simple relationships. The Laws of Attraction affect each one of them.

Whether you are knowingly using the Laws of Attraction in your life, it is always working in your life. A person is always placing vibrations out in the universe thus collecting like energies that will and do come back to them.

It is when you intentionally use the Laws of Attraction that you must focus on what you fancy. Afterward, these encouraging items arrive to you. What becomes important is what you put your attention to the most and when you put all importance into that one thing, you begin to get excited about it. The excitement turns into a greater power than any drummed up by simply saying again and again what you are wanting. This Law of Attraction works the same way in relations as well.

The Law of Attraction can help people find that one person most special to them and bring the mate to the person through this law. You need to first determine what type of mate you want. Make a list if need be and write down your strengths and the strengths that you are looking for. Also, write down the joys you would love to share with your special someone.

Once you have that more concrete list and idea of what you are looking for then the universe, according to the Law of Attraction, will bring you the mate you have been waiting for. Of course, all this will ensue through a series of frequencies. You send out what you want that pulsation goes out and gathers other frequencies you may like.

It is usually a matter of moments before two people meet because their frequencies were vibrating at the same time. Thus the Law of Attraction is at work. Always follow your instincts and if you have the urge to do something else on a whim, do it. It could be on your meet your perfect mate.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

Letting the Law of Attraction do the work is best in this case. Repeatedly to confirm in your mind that the person you are seeking for does, in fact, exist. You must remember to believe in that person. If you draw attention and overall excitement to it, then things will happen. You have to believe it will.

In the theory of matching, it does work well with other relationships. If you put energy and time toward an individual in your life, then that energy can be for them or against them. This depends on the amount of power you send them and what type. In return, you will get a matched frequency and get the consequence you expected. This is called the Law of Attraction.

With the Law of Attraction, should you be feeling down, it will provide you with a person with an even despair. As you both fall down deeper into despair, then you will be deciding if the law is better working against you or for you and you will choose for you in most cases. Find ways to vibrate in positive efforts. You should be able to reinforce and elongate friendships like never before with this being the case.

Laws of Attraction in the Matter of Appearance

Do you wake up, get a shower and wonder what you are going to wear? Do you spend more than an hour getting ready so you can look good when you go outside or are you one of these people who throw on whatever you can, not caring about the thoughts of others? Did you know that what you wear matters?

When others meet you for the very first time, how you appear to them tells them much about you. It also tells them if they want to be friends with you or move on. What you wear says many things about you and about who you desire to be?

Creating a positive initial impression with a clean and neat appearance is a very important part of meeting someone. Slobs do not attract people around them. It tells people that you have no desire for the regards of yourself or anyone else who you may come into contact with.

Remember that members of the opposite sex are attracted to those people who believe to be on top of "food chain". This is metaphorically speaking, of course. Course no one is going to think this way if you cannot do things for yourself without assistance.

Appearance of Clothing

Clothes should be clean, neat and properly fitting so the image you present to others is one as if you care about yourself as well as your belongings and the people around you. It is rare to care about yourself and not others around you but it is quite easy to care for others and not yourself.

This does not mean you should spend a fortune on clothing, jewelry, make-up and anything else that would make you spend more than what is necessary. Plus you do not need to spend more than three hours getting all spruced up. Let the essence of yourself shine through without getting overly done. Even when you look like that, it can tell people that you are trying to hard. Be yourself but look good doing it.

What kind of clothing should you wear? Ask for help.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

If you do not know what your essence...remember that for most people, wearing jeans and sweatshirts or t-shirts are comfortable, every-day clothing. Much more comfortable than wearing dress clothes. You must understand that just because you choose comfortably clothing over dress clothing, does not mean you care less about yourself and how you appear to others.

If you are hesitant about the taste of your clothing, there are people out there who can help you. People can go to sales clerk, especially those in retail clothing, who are qualified to have a good eye for what does and does not look good on people. Most people do not know what looks good on them even though they think it does. A common misconception which is why it is always good to have a friend go shopping with you. A second opinion is always best when buying clothing. With sales clerks, they know if they help their customers buy nice clothing that the customer is likely to come back.

You must remember that a second impression never happens and that first impression is everything. If you make a negative impression from the get-go, it can be very damaging. Try to look your best even if you run out to get something from the grocery store. If you put your best foot forward, you are likely to be remembered for someone who takes pride in themselves.

How to Practice the Laws of Attraction

Try to imagine if you had all the money you might need and want and never have the need to want for it again. Next imagine if you had immense affairs with everyone you knew and are in a wonderful state of well being. Again, imagine you spending your life in perfect harmony and in complete peace. Should you carry out the Laws of Attraction, it is said you will get these things and more so long as you believe it will be so.

The first thing to do is to perform the Law of Attraction and embrace the feeling of appreciation. Be thankful and grateful for all that you have and center on only the superior things in life. Doing so will bring positive sentiments according to the law.

Now those positive feelings will turn themselves into positive energy, thus according to the Laws of Attraction it is supposed to be. It is when you send out the positive energy that you are to see good things return back to you through this law. For example, you are holding onto a luck charm, say for instance, a bent penny, by concentrating on those positive things it reminds you to be appreciative every time you touch it or see it.

Be aware of the thoughts you have according to the Laws of Attraction. Many people go through their days with flitting thoughts going in and out. Of course, many people pay little attention to this detail. Should you be conscious on the Laws of Attraction, then you can monitor them thoughts on a certain degree level. You can eventually get a feel for where your thoughts are headed. Do they lead down a negative path? If so, using the Laws of Attraction can change that.

You should, before much else, figure out what it is that you want. These things do not need to be things that are easy to get but rather things that can be attainable with a little bit of hard work. Going for your dreams shouldn't be a hard thing. Example: the universe will not give a different exertion to give you something fantastic in return. Thus the Laws of Attraction applies to supply them.

Perhaps you really don't know what you want. You have been told over and over again No, you can't have that that you pretty much have stopped wanting it. Yet, it is time to do some soul searching and find out what you could get through those Laws of Attraction that is going to please you. Go through magazines, head out to showroom floors and look at model houses. Who knows? Maybe some ideas will start popping out at you. Yet, the Laws of Attraction do not work this way. It works to remember that all you need is to trust that the good thing will happen and leave the rest up to the universe.

If you know the Laws of Attraction, it can alter your life. It takes certain mindsets to work within these laws but mastering it is never hard, even if it seems like it is. All you need is a bit of patience, time and above all else... faith.

The Consequences in the Law of Attraction

Every adult knows that when you have an action, you end up with a reaction. With every move we make, we end up with some kind of consequence. However, adults need to teach children that everything has a consequence.

Yet, not all consequences are bad. A good consequence is flowers growing when it rains and then the sun comes out. This is a positive consequence.

However, a negative consequence can be when a person is out in public drinking alcohol and then gets behind the wheel of a car and driving it. This can come with a very high price... either with an accident or getting caught by police and going to jail.

This holds true when you talk about the law of attraction. If a person follows the law, then it is supposed to lead to gratification and maybe even happiness. But there is always a price to pay when you break the law.

Only when you break this law, it is not as simple as going to jail or doing community service. This breakage of the law will follow you for the remainder of your life. Some of the law breaking-negative consequence is listed below.

- * You will grow old, perhaps fat, bald and alone
- * You could have a Hell's Angel gang after you for the rest of your life
- * You'll find yourself married, raising a family and living in a small town, all after you get married after only two dates.
- * You'll be unemployed
- * You'll be in jail
- * You may have an unhappy wife or husband stalking you
- * You could be the king or queen of a barren island
- * You may tell tales of your humiliation to family and friends
- * You won't be invited to Happy Hour on Fridays anymore
- * No more office party invitations
- * You could be sleeping in the barn rather than a house
- * Your pride could be broken where you walk with your head in shame and not up high

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

- * You can never look your friends in the eye again
  - * Old friends will never be friends of the future as it is just too weird
  - * You could be in love with someone but never get the feeling returned
  - * Strange men and women will be calling your home all the time, at all hours
  - * Strange packages will be on your doorstep every day
  - * Your kids could end up hating you
- and
- * You could be at the business end of a pink slip or a gun.

Of course, these are extreme situations where you may or may not find yourself at. Although the possibility does exist, one wrong step does not mean all bad things will happen to you from that point on.

It is imperative that people weight their choices carefully when it comes to things of importance. For your see... the law of attraction can go either way: it is either a positive or negative consequences.

Scientific Study Of Male And Female Interactions

What is it behind the attraction for men to women and women to men? What is it about the individual that makes them irresistible to their opposite counterpart? There is a number of factors that needs to be considered; yet let's look at the core of the predicament: the Science of Attraction.

The main component that allows for mate selection seems to lie in the evolutionary need for the species to continue. There is no doubt that in animal species, the strong is chosen to carry on the reproduction process because it is likely they would produce strong or stronger offspring. Weak members are never chosen in the animal kingdom because of the need to survive. If weak members were chosen to procreate, it is likely their children would be weak as well, possibly not surviving into adulthood thus this would end the species.

Primarily, males and females that battled and proved themselves strongest attracted mates more often. Then, they would choose from the strongest from those. Mother Nature's circle of life would indeed go on, with genes often ensuring their children were given ample opportunity in the very beginning of their lives. No different from males and females of the human race search out those people of the healthiest and physically fit types. It is they who can survive physically in the environment.

Set aside those of strongest and survivalist, pheromones play a big part in attracting mates. What are pheromones? Pheromones are chemically secreted molecules that are produced and carried through an airborne route, which causes a great deal of sexual response in animals (including humans, too.) An animal carries the belief that the pheromone allowed the animal to choose a mate based up its ability to produce offspring with a strong immune system.

Up until recently, it was thought the human race had lost the pheromone ability to attract a mate. However, research into how much of a role pheromones play on the human race is not available. All of it is in the matter of speculation. So with this being the case, is the human race no different from their animal kingdom when it comes to avoiding extinction

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

It all seems that scientific evidence pertaining to the human attraction to one another lies in the ability to produce strong children. It seems that pheromones offer the child the greatest possible combinations of immune systems that will ensure their well being. A physical attraction guarantees the child will have the physically best chance to survive in their adulthood. All this supports the theory of survival of the fittest.

Law Of Attraction - How The Human Race Chooses Their Mates

The procedure of deciding a mate is not done entirely on physical traits: their strengths, their courage and their ability to hunt and provide for the family. It is those principles that can be applied to many cases in the human world. Yet, since our minds are much more urbanized than those of the animal kingdom, we, as humans, do take other things into account when choosing our lifetime mates.

While the practice of mate choosing is based upon the ability to provide is a very important thing, the capacity in the human world is not to be judged in the capability to go out hunting and for wild animals; it is based on the ability to meet all their responsibilities that the female counterpart expects. The expectations of your future should persuade you in the amount of accountability your mate has. If you wish to retire at an early age, then you need a mate who is willing to work and forfeit for the goal not someone who wants to goof off and work until they die.

However, if you wish to establish a family right off, then you need to prefer a mate who is keen to carry out their part in the home responsibility and put future job advancements on hold. Children are a necessary responsibility and one person should not handle it alone. Should you be a free spirit, then finding a free spirit such as yourself is priority number one. You need to find someone who has the same viewpoints as yourself. Whatever the situation, you need to find a mate who is willing to hold up their end of the deal when it comes to your future together. Should you find a mate that is unwilling to decide their path can be fine in the beginning, the strain it puts on the relationship can kill it altogether especially if the worry is on the financial end.

Another thing to consider is common interest. Opposites do attract sometimes but it is better to have a mate who has many key standards and interests in common than those that do not. It is likely the relationship would have a superior chance of surviving that way. It does not mean you need to have an identical twin in this case because if there were no difference, what would be there to talk about? While you need to have some of the same activities, there does not need to be a stalemate in the relationship either. Do not forget that a common picture of the future is important. A common path is needed because while attraction is fine in the very beginning, in the end it is going to fail if the male and female do not agree on the future of what they want.

This choosing of a mate should not be lightly done. An incorrect chose can lead to melancholy for all parties concerned. Carefully review your chose in mates and decide who would be better for you in the long term.

The Alpha Male Mentality

Interactions between the males species has always been with the survival philosophy of "survival of the fittest." The male that survives is chosen based on strong breed This is especially true in animal pack societies, in which the alpha male would be the only one among the pack. His job would be to get all the females pregnant so the species could continue to live.

Alpha males in the Animal Kingdom

The male human species look upon this situation strangely with a hint of pensiveness. what would it be like to be the top king of the gang? To be the one who procreates to survive. However, those males do not understand that the alpha male becomes this title not by a birthright but by proving time and again that he is the strongest and the most intelligent to survive. Yet, should another male challenge the alpha male to a duel, then the alpha male must fight in order to keep his back. Should he decline, it will be removed from him. This is to ensure that the species indeed continue to exists because the alpha male is likely to rear strong children.

This is good for the animal kingdom but what does this do for the human race. How do the two relate. In fact, there are alpha males in the human race. Yet the criteria for these alpha males are set differently than those in the animal kingdom. These are five categories of alphas in the human race. They are: the powerful alpha, intellectual alpha, military alpha, bad boy alpha and the artistic alpha

Definitions of the Four Alpha Males -

In the powerful alpha, it is the man who has the greatest and most power. This holds true with their community, family and friends as well as their business. Women who are engrossed to this type of alpha are looking at business tycoons, politicians and possibly even royalty. It's because woman want these positions and the power that the position brings to it.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

Intellectual Alpha - Men who are smart on any topics or subjects. These men are likely to go through school to get their PhDs and are likely to save the world. Where these males can be found in their offices and work places along with their counterparts...their mates.

Military alpha - these are the men women tend to love. Women love men in uniform because they have "power", have an adventurous sense as well as a job that can be brought and talked about although the phrase, "that's classified" would be a mood killer. Their mates know that the military alpha will be out of country a good part of the time so bonding is never very big.

The bad boy alpha can take on many forms. He can be of military Special Forces or with black ops. He can have a dappled past and one criminal element that may have a price on his head. He may not strike about conversations and talk a lot but he assumes the woman he is with will know what he wants or needs.

The artistic alpha would be the type to sell drawings in museums but have his showings somewhere exotic. This type of male is of the romantic side and women will be adorned by this alpha.

Do the males you know fit into one of these five categories? Every woman has wanted to date at least one of them. As the military marines' saying goes, "the few, the proud, we're the alpha males."

How to Compete with the Alpha Male

Throughout the years, the female of any group is fascinated by an alpha male that she hopes will let her bear his offspring - where the offspring have an opportunity to survive in the big, bad world that they will be brought into and raised in. These females are not in the hunt for a relationship that is meaningful and long-term. All they are looking for is quick interlude then have the privilege of bearing a child. The alpha male, is lucky in this regard, since he has a gang and while he must protect them all, he does not provide them all individual attention of himself.

This does ring true to the alpha male human. The alpha male is extremely loyal to those people he chooses to defend and will go out of his way to not hurt them; but he was also not give them his heart. A female of captures and pins down the alpha male is truly a rare woman. Since there are many other "fish in the sea" who are seeking more than what the alpha male can offer, it would be indeed these fishes that will defeat the alpha male's grasp on the female he has chosen to set his sights upon.

A non-alpha male must remember that when he goes into a relationship, he needs to be going in as if he is looking for an everlasting mate but not expecting one either. This means do not propose on the second date, no matter if the woman you want to propose to is the woman of your dreams. A woman who chooses to be with a non-alpha male will go into any relationship cautiously and eyes wide open. She will look to see what the man she has chosen has to offer. He will need to provide her with a sheltered financial future (this can easily be done by going to college and setting a realistic ten-year plan in your twenties.) She will also look for emotional security that she would be lacking in the alpha male. The man who is not an alpha male should not be with a woman if he feels he cannot give himself to a situation that is going to matter. He will need to keep things light and be friends with the female that way he would not get a bad reputation with female acquaintances.

Remember if you are not an alpha male, you may have to fight to get where you want. While you are without the advantage, you do have resources at your disposal. Take advantage of a situation where the female sees you at your best, if it is possible. If not, try to establish that.

Women love confident men.

Things not to do:

- * Stutter
- * Drool
- * Spill Your Drink
- * Say anything that resembles a pick-up or come-on line

Things to do:

- * Smile (naturally of course)
- * Talk in the normal tone of voice
- * Look at her in the eye
- * Start the conversation. (If this seems to be a problem, pick out something in your environment that you find yourself in.)
- * Walk her to her car at the end of the night
- * Get her phone number
- * Most importantly, call her!

Following these guidelines and allowing a relationship to grow between you and your female counterpart can be based on common interest and respect. Before you know it, she can look at you and say "Alpha who?"

Law Of Attraction - Raising Your Attraction Potential

It is clear what the law of attraction is all about: to choose a mate best suited by their skill to endure although it is not their only factor when determining the human match. It leaves great deal for leeway for those people have not found the niche with associates of the opposite sex. Yet there are five techniques that can be used to exponentially increase the impending attraction.

Attraction tip #1 - Dressing for Success - It is easy to forget that over the lessons of the day, the way a person presents themselves will determine how others' opinions of them will help or hinder in finding a mate.. It is important that people take pride in themselves. Remember the old saying... first impressions are everything. There is no second chance to make an impression. A person forms their opinion of you based on how you look, not what matters on the inside. Select attire that are relaxed but fit you well and in style plus colors that are gratifying to the person. Anyone can create an optimistic feeling to those of the opposite sex.

If you feel like you need a little help in this area, a sales clerk at a retail-clothing store can help in selecting clothing that is just right for a person. Many have been in the industry for a long time so they are pleased to lend their experience in putting their customers in clothing that suits them and putting their foot in the doorway of attraction. This also helps them in getting customers to return to their shop.

Attraction Tip #2 - Get a Hobby - With today's busy lifestyle, most of it revolving around work. Not many people have a hobby anymore, with them focusing all their time on work. Work does not give us an enormous deal of time to talk with other people. But getting a hobby increases those chances dramatically. It shows others that you have something other than work in your life. You don't want to be remembered as a workaholic.

Attraction Tip #3 - Keep Up on Current Events - This provides excellent communication interaction between people. You can be in a group and know what people are talking about if you keep up on the current events. You do not want to be the only one not chiming in on the important details.

Attraction Tip #4 - Smile - If you are smiling it means you are self confident and do not mind if opposite sex members come to meet you or you them. It doesn't mean you aren't shy, but you are confident in yourself. Smiling will naturally get people curious about whom you are and ask questions.

Attraction Tip #5 - Find unknown but not uncomfortable situations - This can serve as two parts for the attraction. It opens a person to situations that normally felt weird to be in and gets the person to meet other people. Having someone show the ropes of your present area shows in a helpful way your willingness to adapt.

Using the tricks of the trade means you won't be alone for long. Do not expect results right away because beauty is not only skin deep, it is also on the outside. You must have a wonderful personality to match the beauty to the outside

The Law Of Attraction And Your Body

Financial freedom? This is a success many people try to obtain. For many people, the Law of Attraction has worked for them. It has also helped them obtain fuller lives through enhanced affairs. This law, the Law of Attraction, can indeed have an effect of the body.

First, think of how this law works. Whether you realize it or not, the human body is made up of energy that is either positive or negative. This factor depends on whether the person wants to think more on the positive aspects of life or the negative ones. Life is made up of both good and bad experiences, which makes us grow.

These good and bad factors affect not only the person it happens to but others as well. Should you want only positive energy, then focusing only on the good aspects on life is what you need to do. A good way to use this Law of Attraction process is by visualization.

Competitors employ a technique called Visual Motor Rehearsal to see what potential actions will hold. This practice is a Law of Attraction. Let's take the example of hooking them up to a monitor and have them practice the event on their mind. It would show that the athlete's muscles obeying their thoughts although the muscles weren't being actively used. When the actual competition occurred, the athletes are much prepared for the event as if they were doing the practicing all along. This is a form of Law of Attraction.

With this type of law, being able to feel the realism of plans and imaginings coming true is pretty nice. Using visualization during the Law of Attraction, it can help with any physical task you will begin or undertake.

Should you be thinking about climbing Mt. Fuji, using the Law of Attraction to see it occurring and then believing it, makes you think it can happen. Positive feelings envelop the person about the accomplishment about to be taken and then it comes back to you as positive energy.

It can also be used for healing. Medicine, when needed, should be used. It thought that by using the Law of Attraction that medication can be facilitated greatly when it is used with positive energy or positive thoughts.

Remember the placebo effect? That health or behavior improvement is not attributed to medicine or treatment. That should prove that positive thinking does have an effect on one's well being. If a person feels good about medicine they have to take, the more likely they are to be healed by said medication. This occurs even when the medicine is a sugar pill or a scientific formula used to cure or aid illnesses.

Not to say that some diseases need medicine and treatments. It is these people who need medication to survive a disease or live with a disease that often times get depressed or even discouraged. So long as these folks remain positive and have a positive outlook, then there is an improved likelihood of survival.

Half of using this Law of Attraction is seeing in the mind the course of being well. If you come to believe you are getting better, than it will be so. Remember to try and dwell on the happy or positive side of life and surround yourself with positive thinking and a positive atmosphere. Be around things you enjoy thus keeping up the focus of positive energy.

Law Of Attraction - Study Of How Different Cultures React On Dating

When a person attracts the attention of the one that have an interest in, it's only half the battle. Now that this interest has been piqued, where do you go from here?

Since the world is one big melting pot with the many different cultures in it, it is not simple to ask the love of your life or rather that affection that melts your heart and keeps you sane, for supper and drinks. There are many different rules on dating since there are many diverse cultures. While asking someone out could be simple, this often times not the case because any violations of differing cultures can make you a person of distaste and be ridiculed in the eyes of the one person who you wish to impress most.

Many, if not most, individuals comprehend that not all the societies have identical views on relationships between a man and a woman. This means typically any minor infractions in the relationship are bound to go unnoticed. Yet, it is still important to understand the guidelines in your mate's culture. The people of the United States have, to a great extent, looser view on dating positions than those held by other countries.

America's view on Dating -

In America, physical touching is allowed on the very first date...although only hand holding and kissing at the end of the night is expected so long as both parties are interested in doing so. Should this not be the case of both parties, then the date would be long, boring and rather uneventful.

Eastern World views on dating -

In the Eastern and Asian countries, including Korea and Japan, dating may be allowed but unlike Americans, public shows of affection and physical interaction are scowled at. In many cases, kissing and hand holding may not be at ease for the folks of this area. This is especially true if they are in front of strangers.

In other parts of the world, dating is not done at all. In fact, it is discouraged. Should a man and woman like each other, it is anticipated that their ultimate solution or goal would be to get married. Every step should be done with marriage being the ultimate realization of the goal.

Arranged marriages in other cultures -

Yet, there are still several cultures where members determine who will date who from another family. It is under the assumption that they choose will take the time to get to know the other and will join in on family events. Doing otherwise is thought of as rude and insulting. In other cultures though, joining on the family gatherings should not be done until marriage is established.

There is no doubt; there are pitfalls when trying to form a bond across cultural dividers. If a person wants to date someone outside their culture, they should take the time to study how the person's courtship works. This is to avoid any issues that could arise.

The Law of Attraction Can Build Your Business

There are times when things seem unexpectedly to come our way. There will be an unexpected phone call or visit that will set things in motion. We have all heard of people who succeeded simply because they always seem to be in the right place at the right time. There are many words that are used in order to explain such happenings. Words like coincidence, serendipity, fate, luck, karma. Sayings like, "what goes around comes around" and so on. All of these words and expressions are different ways of summing up what is known as the Law of Attraction.

The Law of Attraction is very simply defined as that which attracts towards your life anything that you pay attention to, focus on, or spend energy on, whether you actually want it or not. You can use the Law of Attraction to build your business. The principles of the Law of Attraction can get you more clients, contracts, referrals, business partners, and of course money.

The first thing you need to know is how people use Declarative Statements and how they affect the Law of Attraction. A Declarative Statement is basically a positive expression targeted to that which you wish to attract. Such a statement leads to better feelings and moods. There are many forms of Declarative Statements and some of them may sound very egoistic in nature but that is how the whole thing works. If you are shy of being confident then you will have trouble working through the Law of Attraction.

Most of the time, failure in people is basically a subconscious acceptance of negative Declarative Statements. For example, saying things like, "My money always goes out faster than it comes in", or, "Business is good only around special occasions," are negative statements. Anything that makes you feel bad or say something negative about yourself or your business is a negative Declarative Statement.

The Law of Attraction will attract anything that you pay attention to. Stick to the positive and you will attract the positive. Keep thinking about the negative and that is all you will attract. The Law of Attraction does not care whether you want something or not or whether it will be good for you or not. It simply takes your current mood or feeling and goes ahead with it.

Every time you think something negative you should immediately dismiss it from your mind and rethink something positive. You will note and immediate improvement in your mood and feeling. Every time you make a negative Declarative Statement as yourself, "What do I want?" Focus on that aspect and rethink your thoughts. Once you know what you want you also know if it is good for you or not and you are bound to choose only that which is good.

You must practice on this until it becomes a habit so that you never have any negative thoughts. After a few days you will see that merely thinking positive will start making a healthy affect on your life and business.

The Law Of Attraction And Home Based Business

The Law of Attraction has been around for many years now. Though it was always quite popular among the self-help seekers and practitioners it is only recently that it has gathered worldwide attention as a major factor that influences our lives both personal and professional. The Law of Attraction has been discussed in detail by many prominent personalities and has found its way into many shows.

The Law of Attraction has a very simple definition that goes, "like attracts like". What the Law of Attraction states is that if you can think of it then you can achieve it. Human history is full of examples that prove this statement to be true. For example someone had to think that humans could fly in heavier-than-air planes.

Someone had to think up the steam engine. Someone had to picture a motorized carriage that would not need horses. All our progress in agricultures, technology, and the various branches of science is proof positive that human beings have the gift of realizing their dreams and making their imaginations come true. Thus we go from the horse to the car to the plane and faster than sound travel. All of this because someone thought that there has to be a faster way to travel.

The same Law of Attraction also applies to home based business. As mentioned earlier the Law of Attraction states that like attracts like. So if you firmly believe that you can succeed at home based business then you are bound to attract everything that will help you achieve that goal. As long as you are patient, persevering, and are completely committed and confident in your own success then there is no reason why you will not.

Success is often seen as something hard to achieve but this is simply because most people are already tuned into failure. An attitude like, "this will never work" or "I cannot do this" automatically predisposes them to failure even before they start. The successful people do not bother thinking about whether something will work or if they can do something or not. They approach everything positively. If this does not work then something else will but until it has stopped working they remain confident in the fact that they are doing the right thing. When you focus on the positive you attract more positivity towards yourself. This means that everyone around you will also share in your positive outlook and thereby the chances of success improve immediately.

Most often people start a home business to pay off some bills, to get rid of their boss, to set their own hours, and so on. There is clarity in their thoughts about what they really want and this leads to failure because ambiguity leads to confusion. You must ask yourself what you really want and be clear that what you want is not a substitute for something else. If you started a home business for more money then how much money you want to make? Just to pay off some bills, fund your education, pay off the mortgage, or to get seriously rich?

You must be clear in your goals if you are to achieve them.

The Law Of Attraction And Getting Clients

Running your own business can often lead to problems like not having enough clients to stay afloat. This can lead to stress and worries about finances and the chances of surviving another year without going into debt. If you are currently in such a position then it may be a good idea for you to read about the Law of Attraction and how it can help you to shift your position to a better one.

The first thing to do is the stop worrying. Yes, you have probably heard of it many times. People are always saying that you should not worry but worry seems to find you on its own. The thing is that worry is not going to bring you what you need. What you need to do is focus on what you want rather than worry about is not being with you already. You must keep yourself open to receiving what you want. Thinking negatively closes the doors and brings in more negativity. So if you keep worrying about not having enough clients you will lose more clients. Instead be happy with the ones you have and stay positive that you will have more clients soon, without any doubt.

Sometimes people are not clear on what they really want. For example, if you are worrying you do not have enough clients then do you want more clients or are clients merely a bridge to what you really want, like money for instance. Your conscious and unconscious minds work differently. The thinking mind would naturally equate more clients with more money but the subconscious is only concerned with money. You cannot think clearly until both your minds are working in sync.

This means that you must focus on what you really want instead of what you think will fix the problem. Until you are completely clear in your mind what you want you will never achieve the kind of success that makes you envious. It may be only the slightest shift in how you think and you will be alright. The more clearly you focus on your goals consciously and subconsciously the better you are prepared to achieve them.

You must focus on everything positive and make it a habit not to dwell on the negative. Always keep in mind how you wish your life to be instead of complaining about how it is. The Law of Attraction will attract whatever you focus on. Focus on the negative and you will get only negativity. Focus on good things and good things will be attracted to you.

Often times you will be told to be practical. While this advice makes a lot of sense it is sometimes not entirely true. The human instinct is a powerful tool. If you deeply feel that you ought to do something then you should do it provided it is positive. Do not deprive yourself of your instinct to prove you are practical. It is important to relax and let your thinking mind take a break while you follow your feelings every once in a while.

The Law Of Attraction And Network Marketing

The Law of Attraction can make a huge and positive impact on your personal life as well as professional future. One of the biggest growing fields of business is network marketing and nothing can help you create a network faster and better than the Law of Attraction.

There are many excellent examples of how the Law of Attraction has been used by individuals to better their personal and professional status. The Law of Attraction can bring success in business and also lead to better and stronger personal relationships with clients and intimates. Despite all this there are very few people who actually bother to find out what the Law of Attraction can do for them. Not only does the law affect the goal but it also has a positive impact on the path taken to reach the goal.

The Law of Attraction is based on the principle that like attracts like. This simply means that the more positive you think the more positivity you will attract. Thinking of success will lead to success and pondering or worrying about failure will only bring more failure. Even in moments of failure or negativity it is crucial to stay focused on the positive and not give in to negativity. The Law of Attraction is blind in the sense that it simply takes your thoughts and feelings and brings about more of the same. By staying positive you are forcing the Law of Attraction to bring you good things. If you want something then do not think of what will happen if you do not get it. That is futile. Instead focus on all the good things that will happen once you do get it. The more positive you think the closer you will be to achieving whatever you desire. All you need to do is apply this to network marketing and you too can become a powerful networker.

As stated earlier, the most important thing is to stay positive. Thinking positive will attract more positivity.

This positive feeling will in turn define your actions that will eventually lead to a positive outcome. Once you are doing this constantly it will be noticed by everyone you meet and you will have no trouble passing on your positivity and passion to others. The more you can ignite them with your own fervor the better and bigger your network will become. Remember that people are more willing to spend money on something that excites and interests them and makes them feel good. Share your positivity and they will readily become part of your network.

How To Be The Creator Of Your Own Life

The next thing is to be clear on your goals and what exactly you want. Do not be ambiguous otherwise you will only get more ambiguity in return. Visualization is the key to realizing your goals. You must be able to see yourself succeeding in your mind. Write down about your success and read it to yourself. This makes things real because humans do not read in words but think in pictures what they read

The Law Of Attraction In Sales And Marketing

The Law of Attraction is one of the most popular areas of personal development today. The Law of Attraction is very simple stated as follows: You will attract towards you whatever you focus on. What this means is that what you think of most is likely to represent your reality in the future. So if you keep thinking of yourself as successful and happy then your life will automatically steer itself in that direction. If you keep too much negativity inside you then you will attract only more of the same. In other words, a positive mindset will help you achieve what you want and a negative attitude will only multiply your failure. The more strongly you believe in yourself and your own happiness and success the more you focus on all the good things that can happen to you and the more you cut out all negative thoughts out of your life the better you will live.

It is important to understand how the Law of Attraction affects people in sales and marketing.

The Law of Attraction says that you will receive what you give. When you are making a sale you must focus on giving the clients more than what they expect. If you focus on closing the sale then that is all you will achieve. Instead think of building a relationship, be positive and infuse your clients with your positivity. Make them think like you think about what you are selling.

A lot depends on the "unique selling point" of your product so keep you USPs handy. If you are good at something then use it to distinguish yourself from your competitors. If something makes you unique then you can use that as your USP. If you have received compliments from your clients then think about what brought forward those compliments. Did they say they found you cheerful, friendly, reliable, easy to talk to, or something else? Make the list and work on it. You will discover that they are your customers not because of your product but because of you. Working on what makes you unique is also a good way to build confidence. The more people like you the more you will like yourself and that will increase the positivity you radiate. Your clients will subconsciously feel that positive attitude and will respond positively to whatever you say.

Do not set limits on yourself. Most failure comes from acknowledging some lack in yourself. Do not hold back because you think you cannot do something. The simply approach is to just do the thing and watch the results.

Sometimes you will have this nagging feeling that the only answer you are going to get is "no". Take a hint from telemarketers, they never let any number of negative responses stop them, they just keep going.

You must believe that your clients like talking to you. This can only happen if you work on how they can benefit every time they speak to you. Remember that it is not all about making a sale. Above all else you must always approach your clients with the attitude that they will do something positive for you.

An Overview On The Laws Of Attraction

For every game played in life it does have its rules. Soccer - you cannot use your hands. Poker - you can't look at your opponents' hand. Scrabble - no looking in the dictionary trying to find words to use. Each rule set forth is considered as if it were set in stone. However, rules do have conditions that can be broken.

It should be said that the game of dating is done an identical ways. To capture that interest of the person you so desire, there are certain guidelines that you must follow. On top of that, there are rules for once you capture set person's attention. These rules may seem iron clad but again, rules were meant to be broken. It is bad when a man is not proverbial with these rules regarding the Laws of Attraction since a violation of them can lead them to loneliness, shame and despair. Not all rules are written down for the viewing public; some are just general common sense knowledge, others are known by the individual themselves. Those who try and enter the scene will need to be educated on each of the games' rules before they decide they want anything more to do with that person.

The Laws of Attraction are founded on supply and demand. When there are plenty of mates (fish in the sea) available, then an individual, based up the supply and demand, is allowed to be picky and choosy on what they want from a person. Should there be a low mate supply, the demand is going to be high and the law allows for more leeway. If a mate cannot be found than the species would eventually become extinct. This becomes the last man on earth philosophy. Be assured should you be the last man on earth, any woman would be glad to have you.

The supply and demand theory is seen throughout every bit of life. One area do not have exclusively. It can be seen in the animal and insect kingdom, among birds, fish and bees. Every species has a meticulous set of rules it adheres to when they judge their mate and rules to those exceptions.

For the animal kingdom it is a general need of mates, as is understood by the supply and demand theory. In the human species, there is the majority of Earth's surface that bends for the laws of human attraction, which are not so stringent, that, require the abolition of the species.
